First District Democracy.

That the First district Democracy realizes the hopelessness of electing their congressional candidate this year was quite evident from the character of the convention held at Sisteraville yesterday. The proceedings were colorless, utterly perfunctory and without the semblance of enthusiasm until near the close, when the band awakened some of the reminiscent Democracy in the delegates by playing "Dixie." show the lack of interest manifested, not more than seventy-five delegates were present, which is in striking con trast to the full representation called out by the Republican convention.

The nominee of the Sistersville convention, Colonel T. Moore Jackson, of Clarksburg, is a railroad president, a banker and man of large means. He is by no means the choice of the Democ racy of the district, but as he has a barrel and other candidates were not falling over themselves to obtain the nomination, he was chosen to swell the boodle pot of the campaign and become a sacrificial victim for the party's sake Colonel Jackson did not receive a single vote from his home county—Harrison. Colonel Jackson will be ple for Cap tain Dovener in November.

Disgusted Southern Democrats. Judge D. L. Snodgrass, of Tennessee, who has been aspiring to election to the United tSates senate from that state, has retired from the race, desiring no preferment from the Bryanized Democracy. Judge Snodgrass is an oldline Jeffersonian Democrat, and like all that class is an out-and-out expansionmuch disgusted with Bryan's bogie of imperialism. He holds that the Paris treaty was "most honorable and advantageous to us." He believes in the retention of the Islands made ours by that treaty, whose "ratification was urged by Mr. Bryan."

With the Kansas City convention. which was dominated by Bryan, voting to haul down the flag in the Philippines professing to approve of the principle of expansion in Porto Rico and Guam but shrinking from applying it Luzon, Judge Snodgrass could not subscribe to any such policy. In a recent address he said: "Strange to say, my position, adopted (by the Kansas City position, adopted (by the Kansas City vide employment for the poor, and convention) in principle, but not to the when the Cuban revenues were inadextent I desired, was immediately decried as not only erroneous in policy, but in principle-upon what ground no rational being can suggest so that any other rational being can comprehend. Admit the correctness in principle of retaining part of the islands and there is no denial in principle of the propriety of retaining all."

The Nashville Banner also reflects southern disgust with Brynnism when it says: "A great many Democrats in Tennessee, possibly a considerable mafority, fully endorse Judge Snodgrass

"Not only are southern Democrats expansionists," says the Chicago Inter-Ocean, by way of comment on the above, "but they clearly perceive the value to southern industries of the advantage in Asia's widening markets of our possession of the Philippines.

"Habit and party 'regularity' may be too strong to give the electoral vote of any southern state to McKinley and the policy of national advantage and national henor. But Mr. Bryan's 'paramount issue' may bring him some disagreeable surprises from that region. Southern Democrats are loyal Americans, and they recoil from the jingle-headed madness of Mr. Bryan's Philippine policy."

Public School Education.

The Wheeling Teachers' Institute, which opened its sessions day before yesterday and which will continue in session during the remainder of the week, promises to be one of the most successful and beneficial ever held. There is no vocation more exacting and nerve-straining than that of the public school teacher, and there is no better method for improvement in the art of teaching the young idea how to shoot than attendance on these institutes.

We do not believe that it is trenching upon exaggeration to claim for the Wheeling district the best managed and equipped schools in the country One of the commendable features in the management of the Wheeling schools is that it is free from political influences, and that teachers are selected from merit, without regard to their political affiliations. We hear of no such complaints as those continually ventilated in the New York papers. For instance, the other day a writer com-plains that graduates from the public schools of that city know absolutely othing. This complainant says: "The writer happened to meet a young girl a short time since who was graduated from an up-town public school. She wore a beautiful gold medal which she got on graduation. She received the highest percentage, and her parents thought here education complete.

"In the first place, she could not peak two sentences correctly, and when the writer asked her if her father were a carpenter, she answered: 'No; he is a mechanic.' We happened to be passing where a church was in course of construction, and she asked what it was. I replied a synagogue, and sha answered, 'What is that?' She had absolutely no reasoning power, but pos-sessed a good memory and repeated her answers like a parrot."

He then proceeds to show that "politics" is at the bottom of these miser able results; that a teacher without a pull, no matter how competent, stands a very poor chance of appointment, while the incompetent one usually gets

And there is yet another side to the picture that obtains in school management that is just as deplorable as in-competent teachers. The same writer quoted above relates that he happened whose knowledge of the English language was slim, to say the least. He visited a school and inquired of one of the teachers how her pupils were getting along, etc. He thought, however, he would test them himself, and, picking up one of their books, he asked them to spell various words. On one page he saw the word Egypt, and with a very superior air he asked, "All who can spell egg-pit put up their hands." Some spelled it with one t and some with two. He was simply horrifled at such ignorance, and with a look of disgust turned to the teacher. He asked her if she could spell egg-pit, and she spelled it as the boys did-egg-pit. "You are all wrong," he exclaimed. "It is spelled Egypt." The teacher collapsed.

Ungrateful Cubans.

Besides wanting the flag hauled down in the Philippines, the Bryan Demo crats are trying to create a feeling of unrest in Cuba by encouraging the people of that country to demand an States troops and the handing over of the government for their administra-This attitude of the Democratic party inspired that old Cuban patriot, General Gomez, to write a letter, in which he urged the Cubans to send none but revolutionists to the constitutional convention, and permit United States to have no voice in framing the new government.

This letter raised a storm of disapto write another much milder in tone This attitude of ingratitude toward a country that has done so much for them has moved the Louisville Courier Journal, a Democratic paper, to reason with the Cubans as follows: "It is fortunate for Cuba that extremists like Gomes and Claneros are not able to dictate to the electors. What the Island needs above everything else is tranquility, and this would certainly not be the result if a lot of Cuban generals wer to undertake to manage affairs without consulting the United States. Such a programme also shows a lamentable lack of gratitude for the great work of philanthropy that has been going on in Cuba for two years. It is doubtful that any nation has ever been as unselfish as the American people have been with the Cubans. The war of mancipation was first undertaken, and then began the harder task of restoring order and prosperity to a land wasted by strife and oppression. Immense sums have been expended from public and private donations, and ar

still being expended, in the regenera tion of the island. The cities have been cleaned, drained and paved, so that albanished. The starving have been fee been freely drawn upon.

The return of the 1,400 Cuban teach ers last week, after two months spent in study and travel in the United States, is an instance of the wise philanthropy with which Americans have treated their wards. There were practically no schools in Cuba when Superintendent Frye was sent to inaugurate the work of education. He organized the school system, engaged the teachers, and then found there were neither school houses nor books. Hundreds of thousands books were at once shipped to the island, and the people were assisted and encouraged to provide school buildings.

"A nation that does such things as these for another does not deserve to be flouted even by so illustrious a patriot as General Maximo Gomez. It gratifying to learn both that he has thought better of it and that the great mass of the Cuban people are sensible of the obligations under which they have been placed by their protectors. Such a state of feeling repays us for our sacrifices and renders easier the work of regeneration in the Pearl of the Antilles."

All honor to the Knights of Pythias Supreme Chancellor Sample, in speech at the opening exercises of the tenth bi-ennial encampment of the uni-formed rank of that order, at Detroit said: "Alongside the never-defeated American flag floats the tri-color of the Pythians. Both have been now taken across the water, and both are to stay there." General Carnahan, in speaking of the part the Pythians took in the late war with Spain, remarked that "when humanity needed a defender we had volunteers for that defense, and we have stood for the grand docof Americanism. No mongrel type of Americanism, however; no German-Americanism, no Irish-American ism or anything of that kind, but just

The final granting of license to the proprietors of two of the places mos bitterly denounced in council is one of the most glaring inconsistencies of that peculiarly inconsistent body. If there were well defined objections to licensing these houses a month ago they have not been abated in any degree since The action is simply unexplainable from a moral standpoint.

The rumor that an anarchist threatened to take the life of Mr. Bryan during the latter's stay in Omaha, sounds very fishy. What in the world could have been his motive in wanting to make away with the bosom friend of John P. Altgeld?

That's fair enough. The Populists made the Democrats swallow Bryan, a distinguished member of their party; now the Democrats have compelled the Populists to do their bidding in accepting Stevenson as a vice presidential REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR No man with whiskers has got any right to put butter on his green corn.

The best lesson we learn from our enemies is to be deeper than they are.

The girl that doesn't put in more time fixing her hair than she does saying her prayers won't stand much show with the men. You often meet men who are too modest to get married, but most of the women you meet are generally too married to get modest.

For Aguinaldo and Bryan.

From a letter in the Scranton Truth from Lieut. Murphy in Luzon: While I from Lieut. Murphy in Luzon: While I was at Tobaco I saw a proclamation of Aguinajdo's. I don't remember the exact wording of it, but the substance of it was that a vote had been taken at home in some of the states as to whether we should keep the Filipinos or give them their freedom, the result of which was a big majority in favor of the Filipinos. Further, it stated that there was a great man in the states by the hame of William J. Bryan, who was a great friend of the Filipinos, and that he would be the next President of the United States. He also said that at a big banquet in Chicago Mr. Bryan referred to Aguinaldo as a second George Washington.

In concluding, he appealed to the people to hold out till Bryan should be elected, and they would then be given their liberty and freedom forever. The proclamation was signed by General Aguinaldo himself. So you see anything like this gives them hopes of still winning, and it causes a great many good people to stay out, fearing that they would have a bad time of it if they came in now and a little later the place should be turned over to the people that might prove to be their enemies. was at Tobaco I saw a proclamation of
